TEXT :

Have you thought of your future job carefully?

I would like you to read and make your choice.

A secretary is someone who can speak at least two languages. She classifies documents and sometimes types letters and reports.

A young man is not generally advised to be a secretary.

Farmers work from five or half past five in the morning till six or half past six in the evening. They work in the fields and look after domestic animals. If you are fond of suits at work, I advise you not to become a farmer.

Teachers love children and young people, they just have books and pens as friends. They work very hard and so do the doctors. In fact doctors work during weekdays, weekends and they never refuse a call at night. They spend most of their time looking after patients.

Personally I wish to have the best job. I would like to become a manager. So I'll start working at half past ten. I will spend most of my time on meetings and telephone calls. I already imagine my clerks respectfully greeting me "Good morning sir". I don't fancy dealing with hard work, and nobody can force me to do things. I am the only one who will take decisions on how to run my business properly in order to make big profits.
